

Privacy Policy and General Data Protection

Good Neighbours UK understands that your privacy is important to you and that you care about how your personal data is used. We will only collect and use personal data in ways that are described here, and in a way that is consistent with our obligations and your rights under the law.

Please read this Policy carefully and ensure that you understand it

The Data Protection Act

The Data Protection Act 2018 controls how your personal information is used by Good Neighbours UK.

The Data Protection Act 2018 is the UK's implementation of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

Good Neighbours Data Protection Principles

Good Neighbours will make sure any personal information is:

- Used fairly, lawfully and transparently
- Used for specified, explicit purposes
- Used in a way that is adequate, relevant and limited to only what is necessary
- Accurate and, where necessary, kept up to date
- Kept for no longer than is necessary
- Handled in a way that ensures appropriate security, including protection against unlawful or unauthorised processing, access, loss, destruction, or damage

For the design of Good Neighbours development projects it will collect information on Gender, Age, Health and Ethnicity to ensure that the most vulnerable are prioritised. This information will be anonymised.

Good Neighbours does not collect data on:

- Political opinions
- Religious beliefs
- Trade union membership
- Genetics
- Biometrics (where used for identification)
- Gender
- Age
- Health
- Ethnicity

Your rights

Under the Data Protection Act 2018, you have the right to find out what information GNUK stores about you. These include the right to:

- Be informed about how your data is being used
- Access personal data
- Have incorrect data updated
- Have data erased
- Stop or restrict the processing of your data
- Data portability (allowing you to get and reuse your data for different services)
- Object to how your data is processed in certain circumstances

You also have rights when GNUK is using your personal data for:

- Automated decision-making processes (without human involvement)
- Profiling, for example to predict your behaviour or interests

To find out what data GNUK has about you

Write to the Data Protection Officer (see below) to ask for a copy of the information they hold about you.

- How long it should take

GNUK will give you a copy of the data they hold about you as soon as possible, and within 1 month at most.

In certain circumstances, for example particularly complex or multiple requests, GNUK can take a further 2 months to provide data. In this case, we will tell you:

- Within 1 month of your request
- Why there's a delay

- How much it costs

Requests for information are free. However, GNUK can charge an administrative cost in some circumstances, for example if:

- You're asking for a large amount of information
- Your request will take a lot of time and effort to process

How to make a complaint

If you think your data has been misused or that GNUK is holding it, and is not keeping it secure, you should contact GNUK.

If you're unhappy with the response or if you need any advice, you should contact the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO).
